

INVESTMENT ADVANTAGES

Why invest in Papicoïn?

Besides the opportunity to do something good for society, Papicoïn as a cryptocurrency also offers the following benefits for investors:

➤ Papicoïns are traded around the clock

One advantage cryptocurrencies have over banks is that the crypto market is always open. Coin mining takes place around the clock and transactions can be posted at any time. So you don't have to wait for the Frankfurt Stock Exchange, the NYSE or another exchange to start trading for the day if you want to buy, sell or trade cryptocurrencies. This development has had such a big impact that now even regular exchanges are looking into whether stocks can be traded outside of regular banking hours - even if it might take a while to get there. For investors who are on the go 24/7, cryptocurrencies could therefore be the best way to generate returns outside of normal trading hours.

➤ Tax exemption of cryptocurrency after one-year holding period

From a tax perspective, Papicoïn and other crypto payment instruments are not currency or income from capital assets. Instead of paying final withholding tax on the gains, it is a private sale transaction. If taxable gains are made on the sale, they will be subject to your personal tax rate. If you have owned the Papicoïns yourself for more than one year, the sale is tax-free. The amount of the gain does not matter and you do not have to declare it in your tax return. The legal basis for this is the holding period from Section 23 (1) No. 2 Sentence 1 EStG; because only if the cryptocurrency is sold within one year after purchase, the tax is due.
